

Meeting and talk – IACR 2025

The 44th Annual Meeting of the Indian Association for Cancer Research (IACR) was held at the Biswa Bangla Convention Centre, Kolkata during January 16-18, 2025. This year the conference was attended by over 350 participants. The theme of this year's International conference was "Convergence of Fundamental and Translational Approaches in Cancer Theranostics". Prof. Kaushik Biswas from the Department of Biological Sciences, Bose Institute, Kolkata presented an invited lecture in this conference titled "Transcriptional Control of the GM2-synthase gene in Cancer: The Sp1-HDAC1-p300 Enigma", where he highlighted a novel mechanism underlying the transcriptional regulation of the gene, GM2-synthase in cancer. Below are some glimpses from the event.
